In the end patrons voted for the cover with Kaede, Kyoko and Chiaki. In my mind i was thinking dang it... they chose the most complex one haha. Well i think it turned out nicely in the end

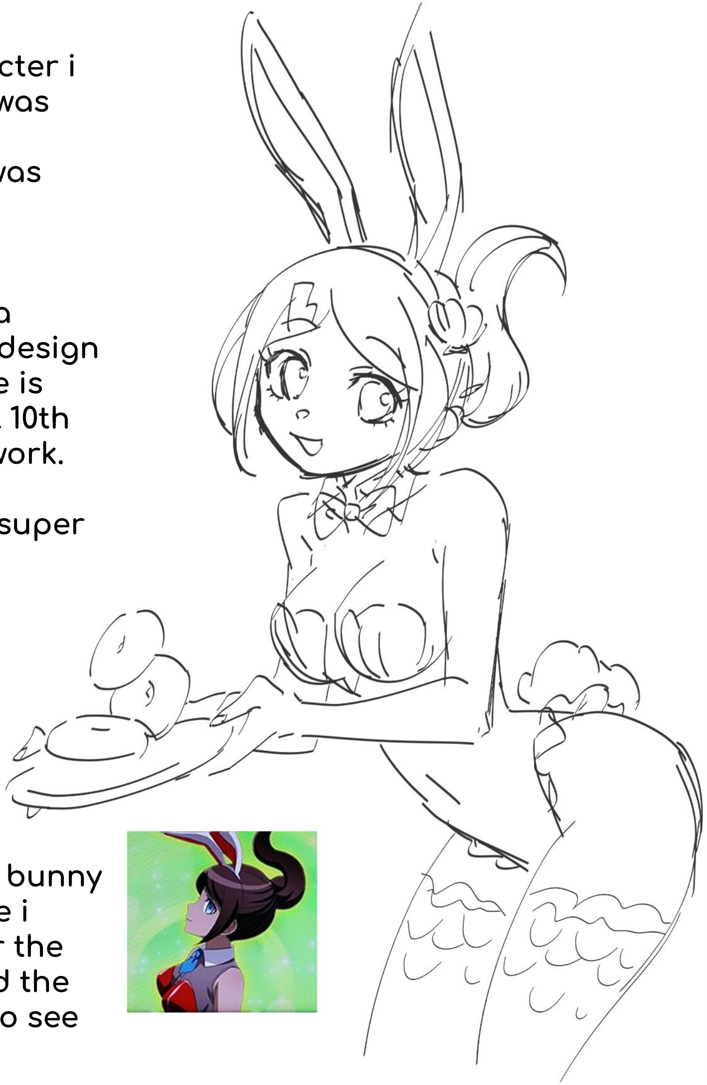
Sakura's Oni Bunny design is inspired by the tale of the red and blue oni. I felt that both oni reflected parts of Sakura's personality very nicely.
At first, i wasn't sure whether i wanted to go with the oni theme or a more traditional bunny suit (or body builder look) so i actually got feedback from Scottie (DR Wiki Mod) for help as a big Sakura fan.
Scottie told me that in DRS, Sakura acts as the role of the Oni for the summer festival play about the story of Momotaro. So that's why i ended up going with the oni theme in the end ^^ Thanks Scottie!

Aoi was the first character i drew a design for so i was still figuring out what direction this project was gonna go.

I really like that i could include a mermaid/sea bunny theme into her design and the colour scheme is inspired by her official 10th anniversary dress artwork.

I think she turned out super cute :)



Since she was the first bunny i drew you might notice i actually redrew her for the final zine. So i included the first one here for you to see :D

THE LITTLE MERMAID... BUNNY gill design shell bra swimsuit look fav human food : donuts !
fish scale pattern leggings fins + tail

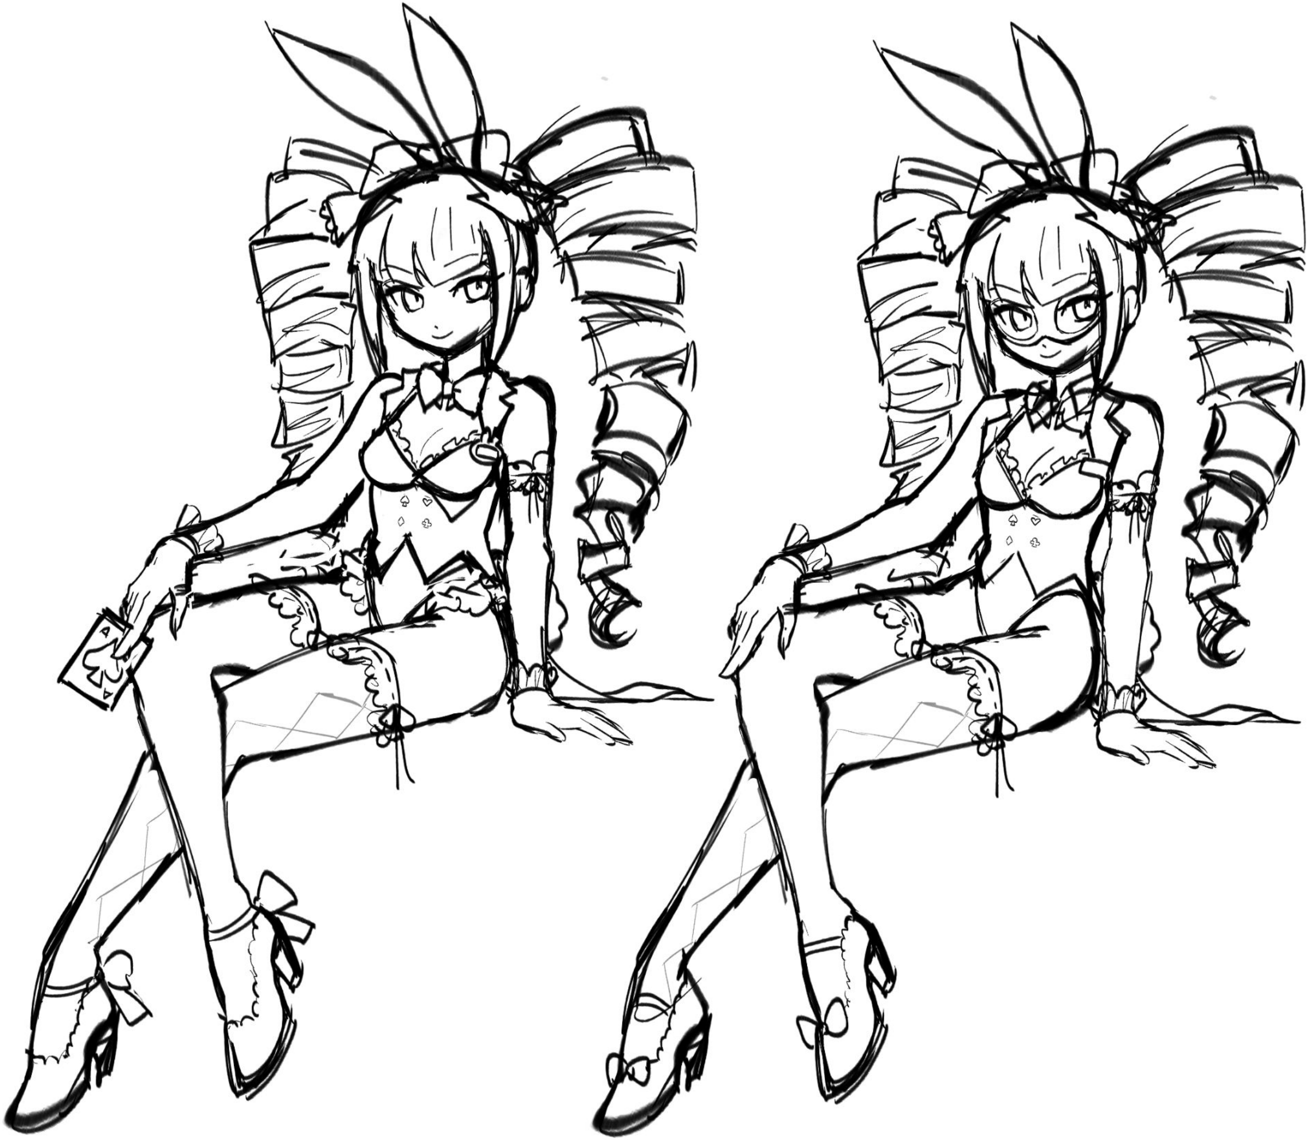
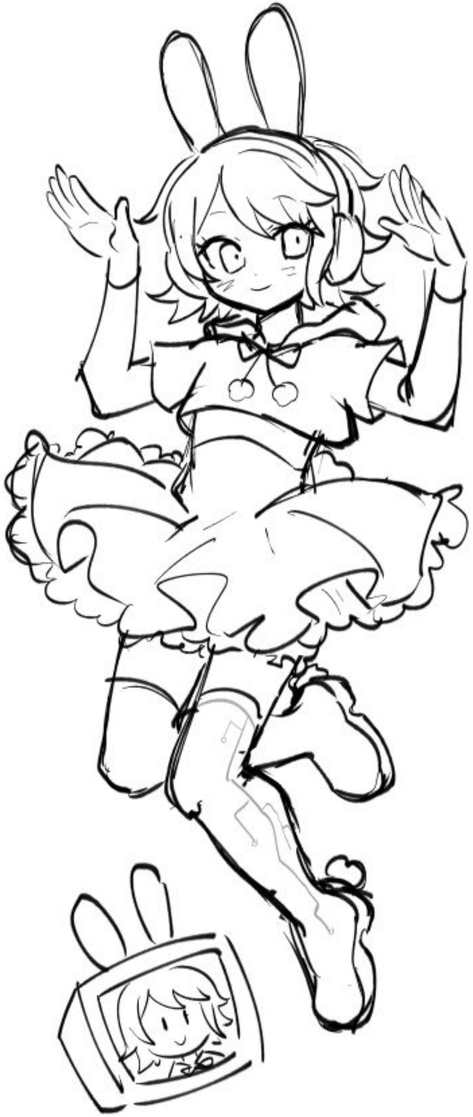
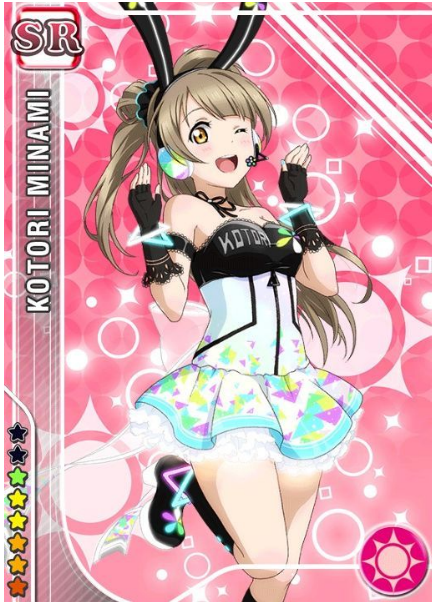
Celestia was pretty easy to design overall. The only thing that stumped me a bit was that i couldn't decide if i wanted to go with a gothic lolita theme or casino look

After discussing with patrons, we decided to go with the casino dealer theme and well it was pretty simple from there. There are still lolita fashion elements in it like the big bow headband and many many frills.

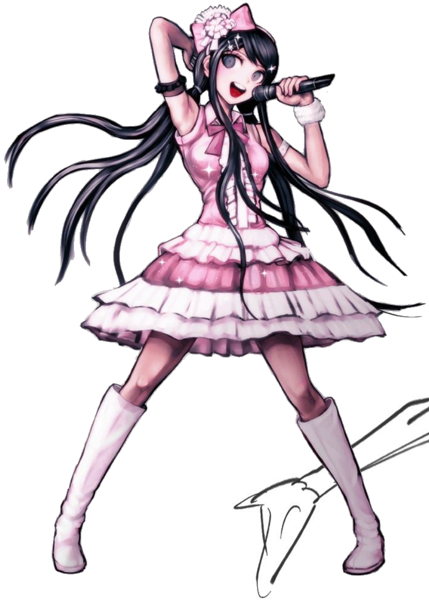
I think overall i really like the card suit motifs on her clothes and i wish i had cute print leggings as well







Chihiro's Bunny outfit is definitely more on the cute side than sexy haha. My biggest inspo for the design is the Cyber Diva outfits from the Love Live School Idol Festival mobile game (rip original LLSIF 2023) I've been drawing dr characters in this outfit for YEARS i think i was the first to do so haha



Continuing with the idol topic, Sayaka's design is SUPER CUTE PINK IDOL Haha not much else to say there but i do like the heart cut out and all her frills. The bows and transparent fabric on her hips are supposed to resemble a skirt like her idol outfit. Overall, just sweet and cute i just really like the FREEing Kyoko Bunny. Honestly i didnt care about bunny girls at all until the Danganronpa Kyoko and Chiaki ones were revealed. FREEing does a ton of ¼ scale bunny girl figures but so many look very boring to me. The Danganronpa ones by some miracle actually design suits that are unique and fit the character. I couldn't believe it like WHAT? FOR DANGANRONPA?

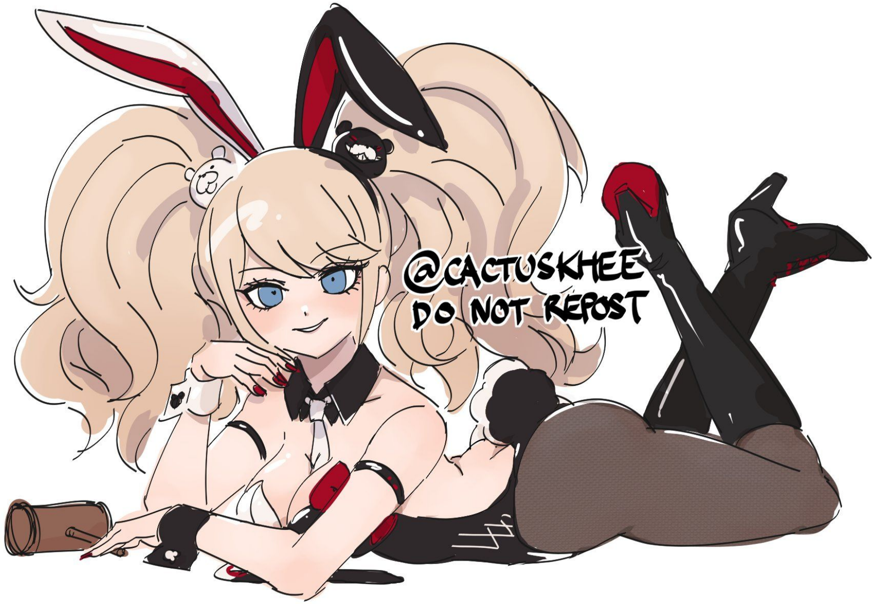
But i'm very grateful... and now my wallet cries because i've ordered every DR bunny figure haha. What i'm saying is without these figures this zine would not exist. So i didn't really change Kyoko's design much apart from the shoes and adding a jacket
If FREEing would make some more Dr bunny figures i'll be sure to buy it

junko enoshima bunny

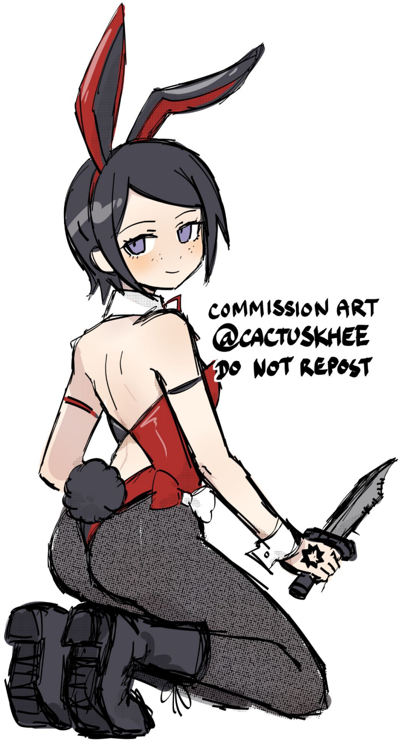


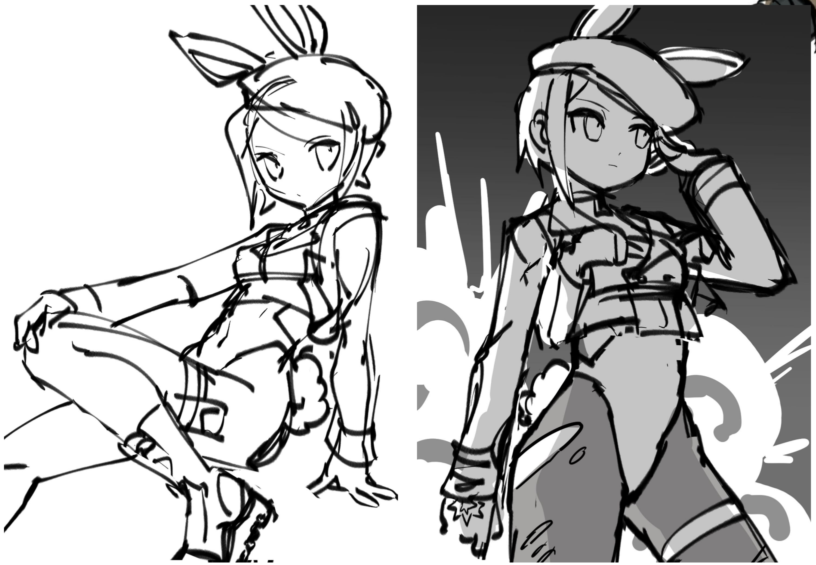
Before Junko's bunny was announced i drew this sketch predicting what she might look like in a bunny suit. While it wasn't a prefect guess i got pretty damn close. So the final Junko bunny design i drew for this zine is just a mix between mine and the official look :D

At first i was going to make Mukuro's bunny design match Junko's bunny suit like the commission i had drawn for one of my patron's, Trevor :D (btw shoutout to all the mukuro fans who support me on patreon. I'm amazed how much you guys are able to get me to draw her coz she keeps winning art polls XD)

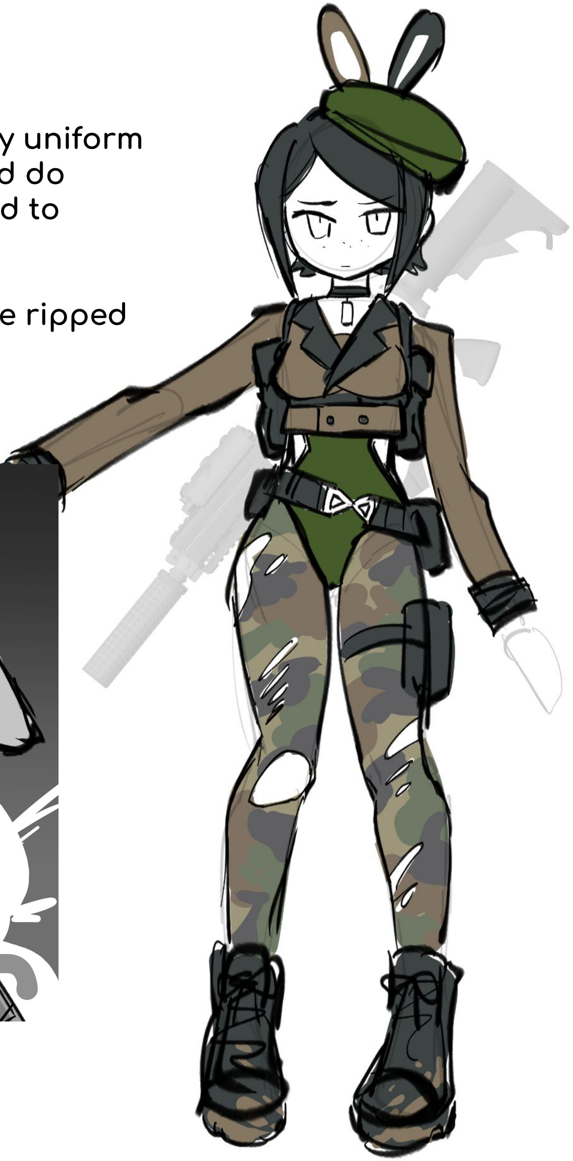
Mukuro's outfit is obviously inspired by military uniform aesthetics, seeing that she is a soldier i wanted do something that had that look. It's not supposed to resemble any particular real world uniform

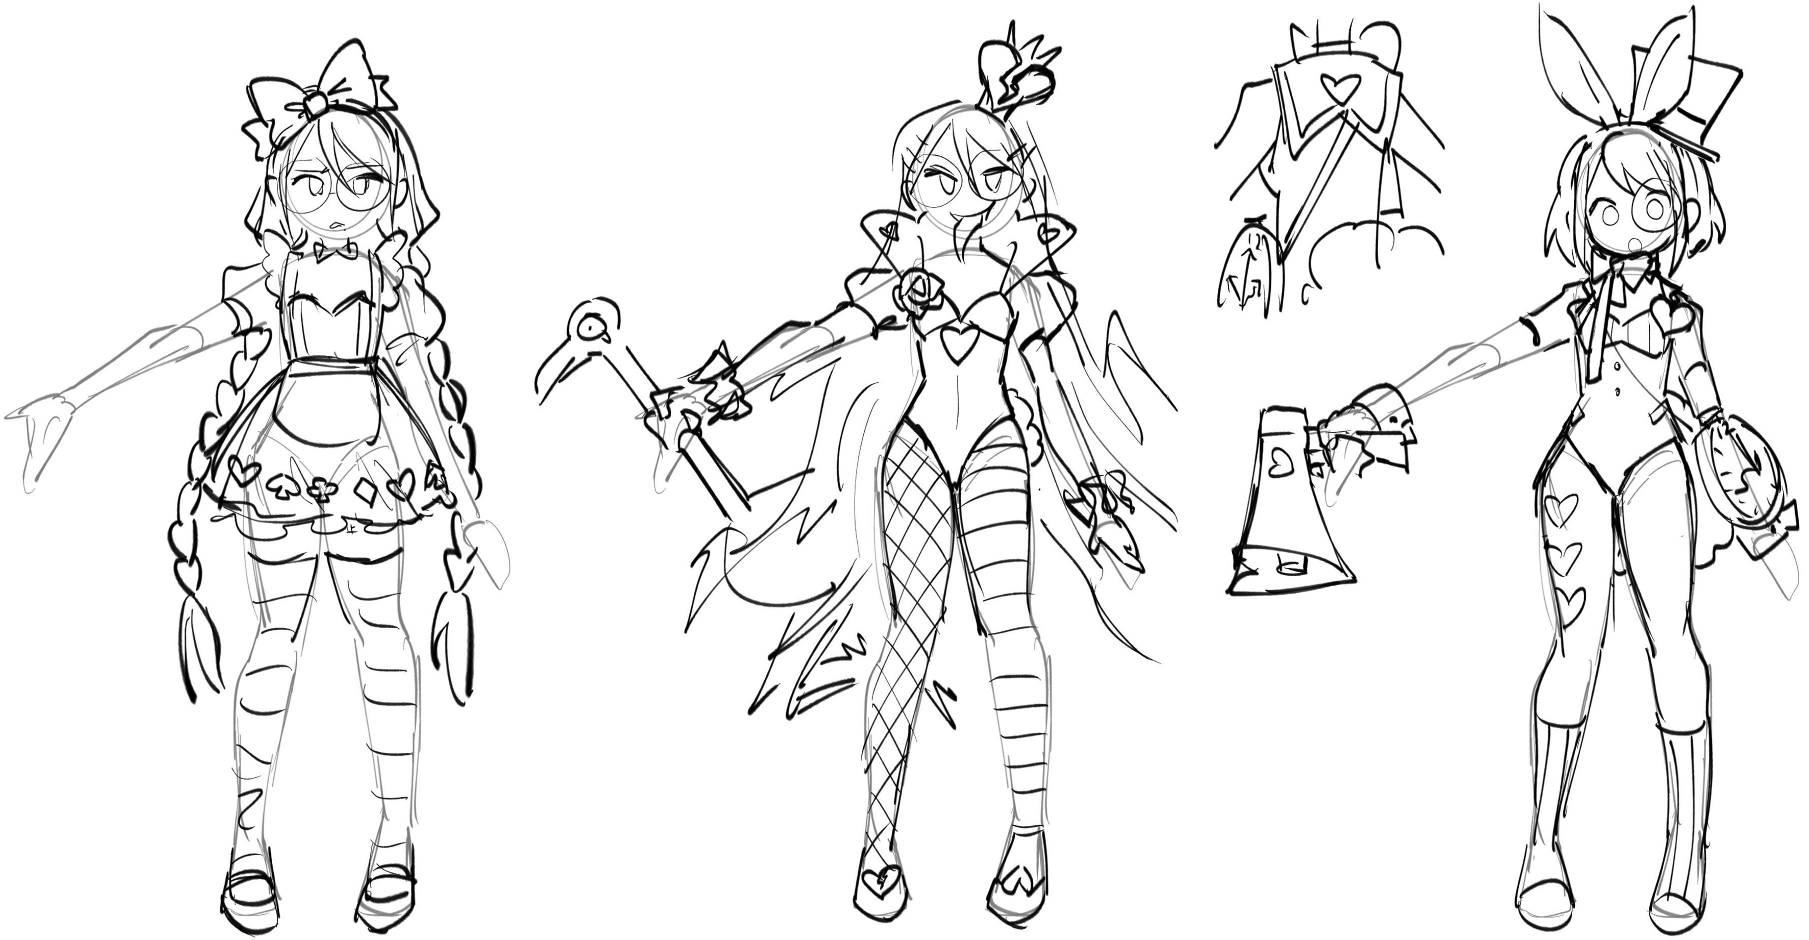
My favourite part of this design is probably the ripped camouflage leggings, i think they are cool





Sketch for the Patron voted Character Print



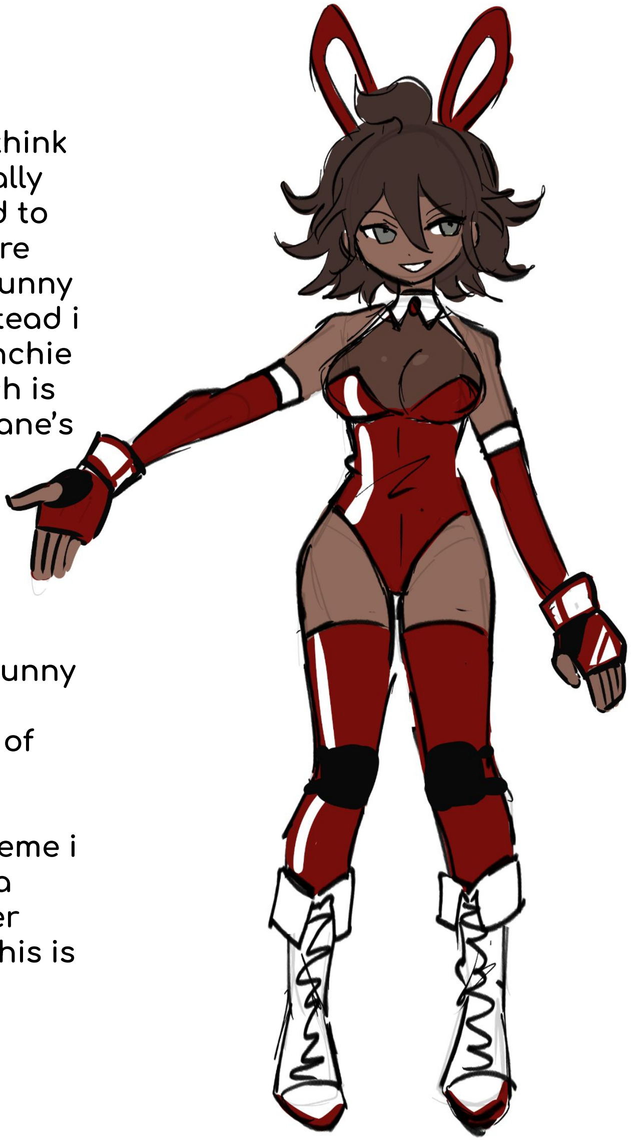


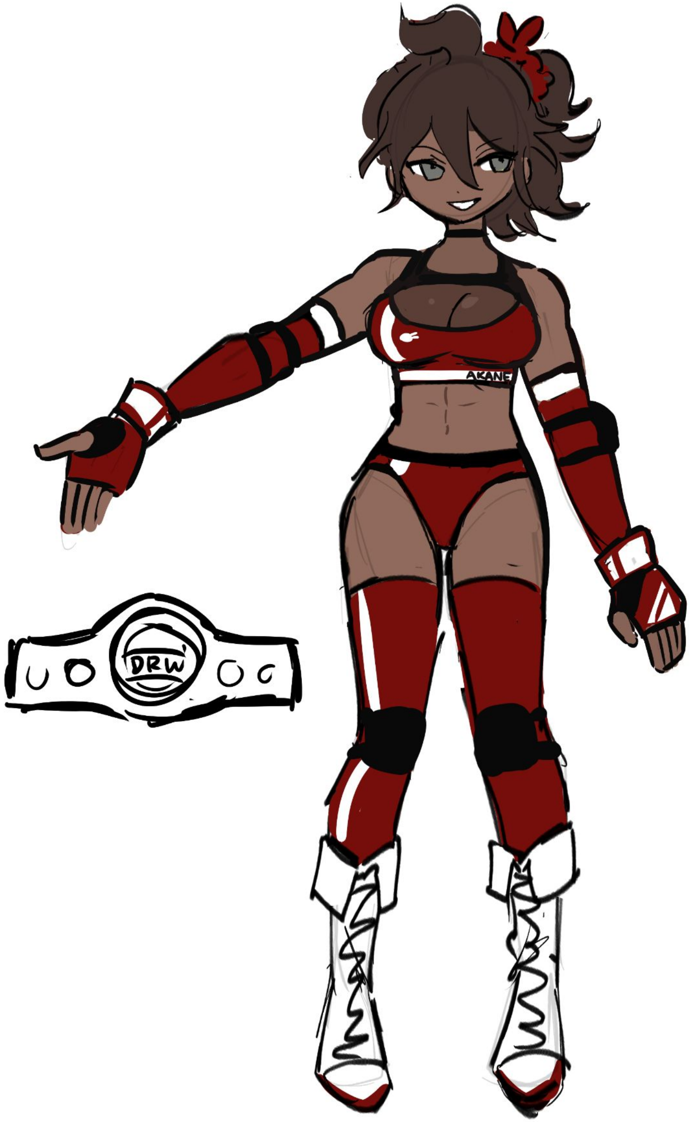
Toko, Genocider and Komaru were originally going to have a matching theme inspired by Alice in Wonderland. I thought since it's a famous literary work, it would fit nice with Toko. Komaru as the White Rabbit as her companion fits in as Toko's reason to travel through Towa City/Woonderland. Genocider as the Queen of Hearts was also perfect for how quirky she is (plus the killing people part). Komaru eventually was given her own theme but i think Alice and the Queen of Hearts was a really great decision in the end.

Honestly, i kinda love both designs i drew for Akane. I think the wrestling theme was really fun but in the end i decided to go with something a bit more sporty than sexy. The big bunny ears were removed and instead i gave her a bunny ear scrunchie for a tied up hair look (which is definitely because i love Akane's 10th anniversary outfit)

I do love the fact that her bunny tail is attached the the championship belt instead of her clothing

Apart from the wrestling theme i did think about giving her a waitress look because of her backstory but hmmm nah this is cooler for her





Sonia was the second bunny design i drew! I knew i wanted to give every character a personalised bunny look so i went with a ballgown and elegant theme. I love all the designs i did for this zine but this one might be one of my favorites.

It’s definitely inspired by the dress that appears in the anime Mawaru Penguindrum and this is for good reason. Sonia’s japanese voice actress, Miho Arakawa, plays both characters and from somewhere i read (don't quote me on this) Kodaka wanted her to voice Sonia after hearing her performance in the anime. So think of this design as a homage. Also i love Hoshino Lily’s artwork haha

I also redrew this page for the final zine so you can see the original here

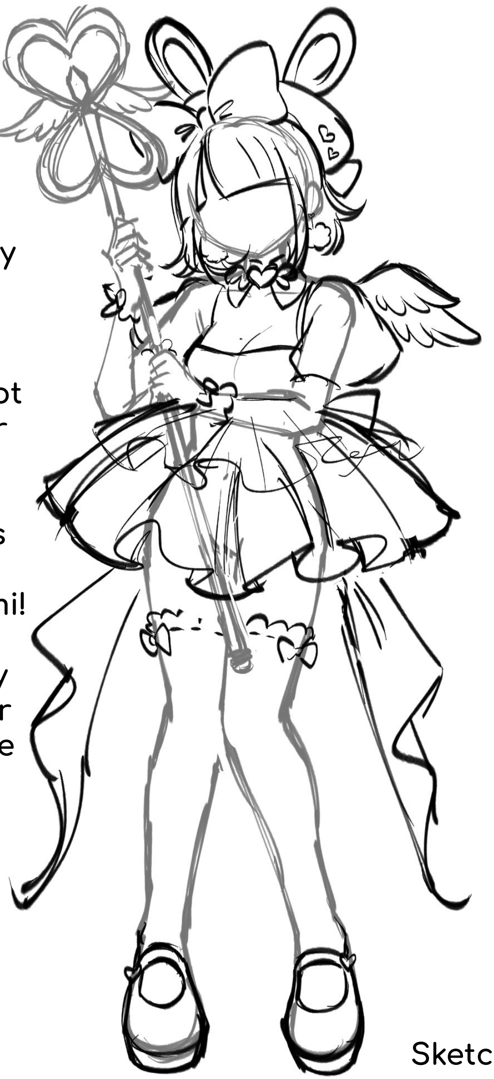
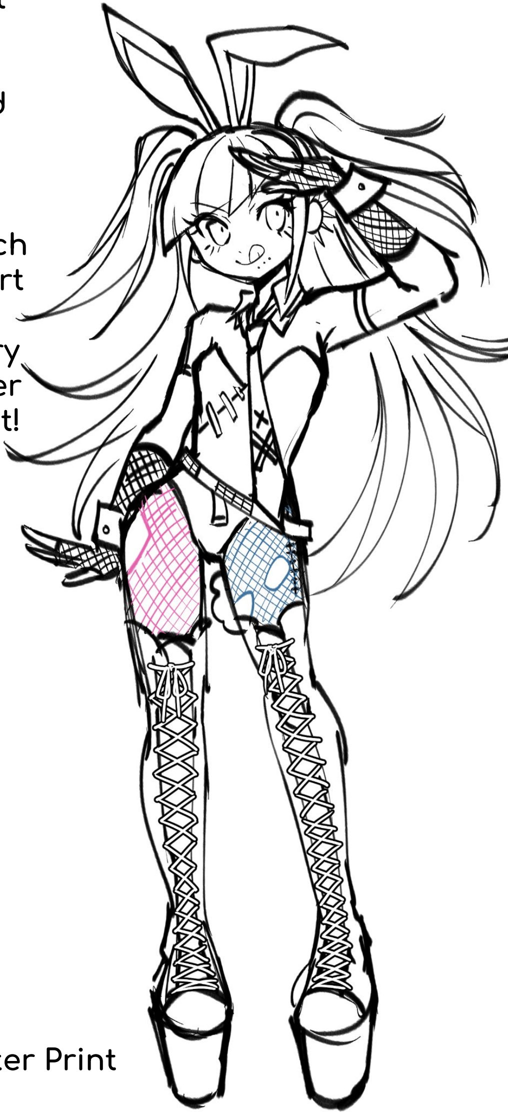
Unlike Kyoko's FREEing Bunny, i did not immediately love Chiaki's bunny design. I've grown to like it more because i appreciate how unique it is but i decided not to draw something like it for the zine.

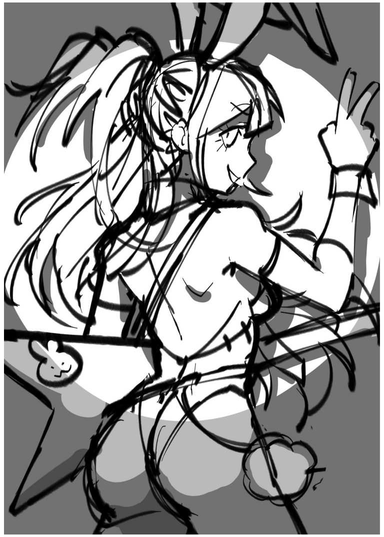
Instead, my Chiaki design is more like a magical girl because it's based on Usami! This cutesy magical girl dress is def also inspired by the costumes in Cardcaptor Sakura. I hope you think she turned out adorable ^^



Ibuki's design was like... perfect from first sketch haha. Her bunny suit look is inspired by her 10th anniversary dress and her Hope's Peak uniform

I decided to remove her hair horns because it was a bit much with the bunny ears. My fav part of this design is the bunny tail that is chained as an accessory that swings from her belt rather than being attached to the suit! Isn't that cool?



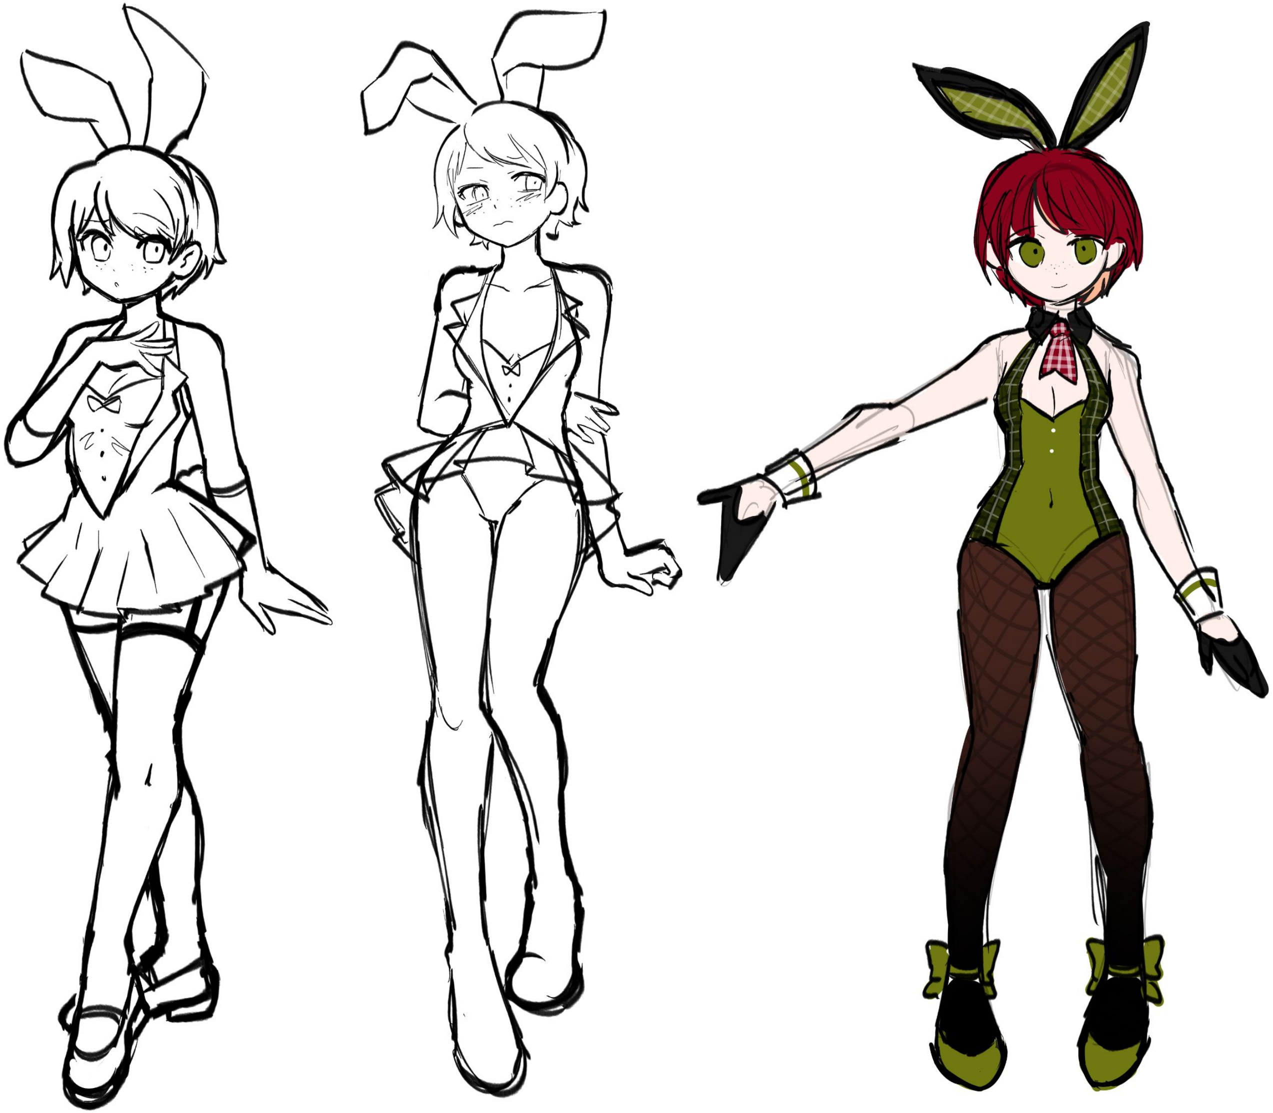


Sketch for the Patron voted Character Print

I struggled a lot with Mahiru's design. I didn't really want a photographer theme going on but the design i drew i wasn't happy with either. I had to give up and come back to it later.

In the end i went with a plaid and gingham patterned bunny look with a focus on green and reds. I think she looks really nice despite the mess of pattern fabric everywhere haha. The colours are nice together

Im curious if a suit like this would look good in real life or just a disaster.



Kimono patterns are intimidating to hand draw but i'm really happy i decided to go for it. I think Hiyoko's design came out beautifully. There was an idea to give her a skirt but i do like the full length kimono Mikan's design was part nurse uniform part bunny suit and i had it in the first sketch. I asked patrons and guest artists for advice on the colour combo tho ^^ i love her floppy long bunny ears.

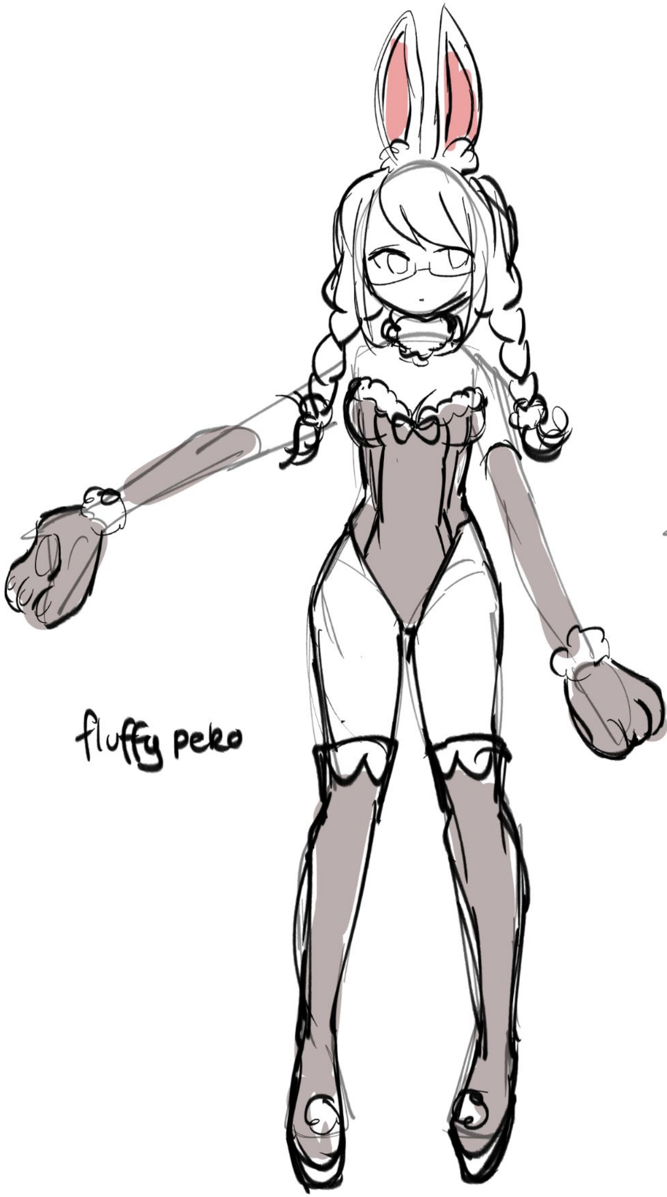
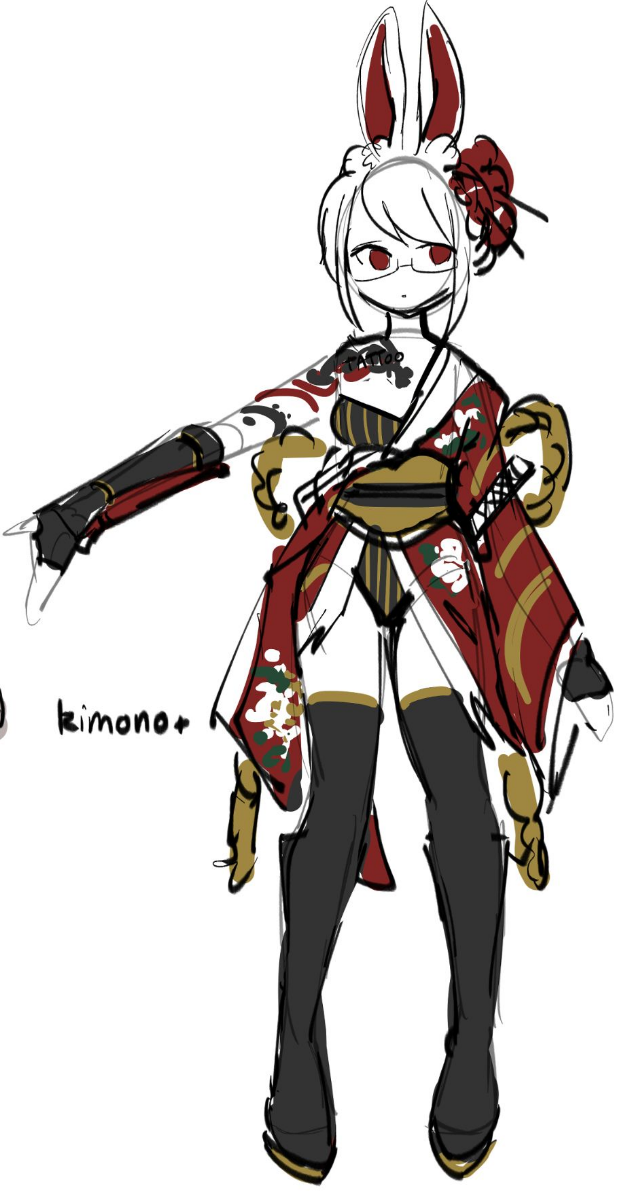
At the start i didnt know whether i wanted to go for a fluffy bunny or more yakuza badass look. I thought since Peko really wants to pet fluffy animals she'd look cute as a fluffy bunny haha.

Patrons and guest artists helped me pick the open kimono look tho. At this point i was thinking gosh there's a lot of bunny designs with the red & black colour palette but i'm glad we went with it. I think the rabbit tattoo is so cool

Plus she got to be with a fluffy bunny wearing an eyepatch in the end ^^

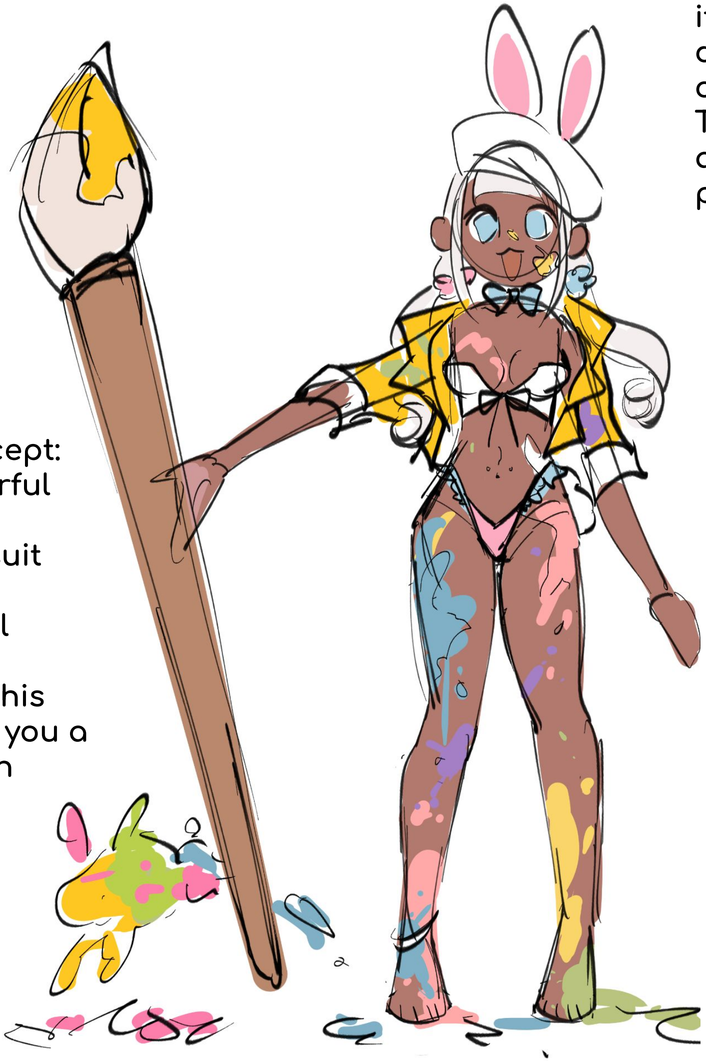




Angie’s concept:

- Colourful
- Paint
- Swimsuit
- Beret
- Playful

I hope that this design gave you a feeling of fun



I didnt want Kirumi’s design to be like “oh, just a maid” i mean it kind of is.. But i did make it dark green haha. The most difficult part was trying to find a nice balance for the amount of dark and white in her outfit.

The spider web leggings are cool and i think the ballet shoes add a feeling on gracefulness. She’s also serving apple slices peeled like rabbits in the final page artwork which is cute

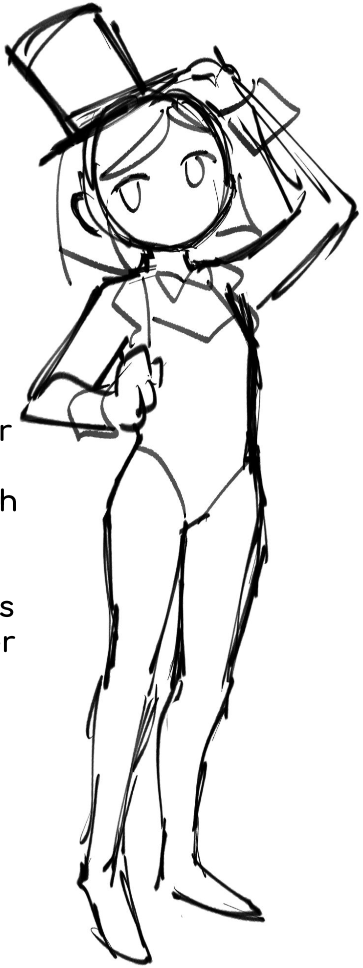
Magician
Rabbit out of a hat

It’s all very self explanatory

The only thing is i decided i didn't just want a blazer over a bunny suit. So Himiko’s bunny suit is covered up with a shirt/blazer combo

I think it's also cute that she's hiding bunny ears under her top hat

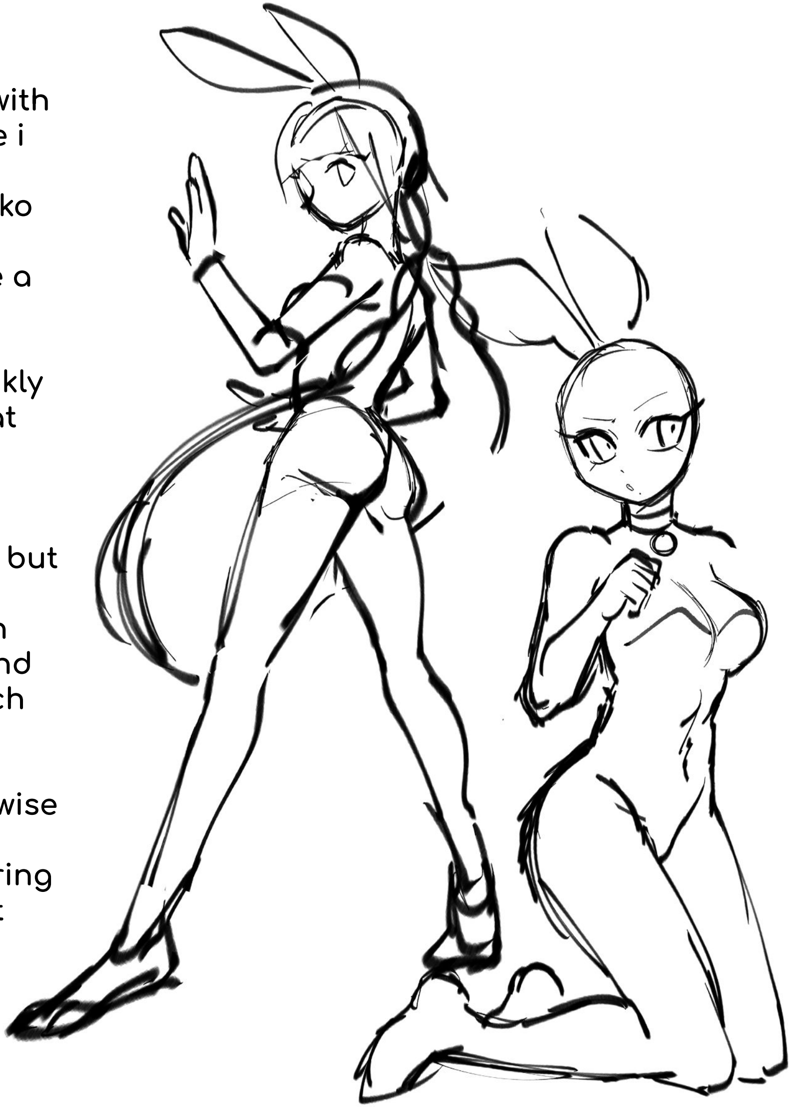


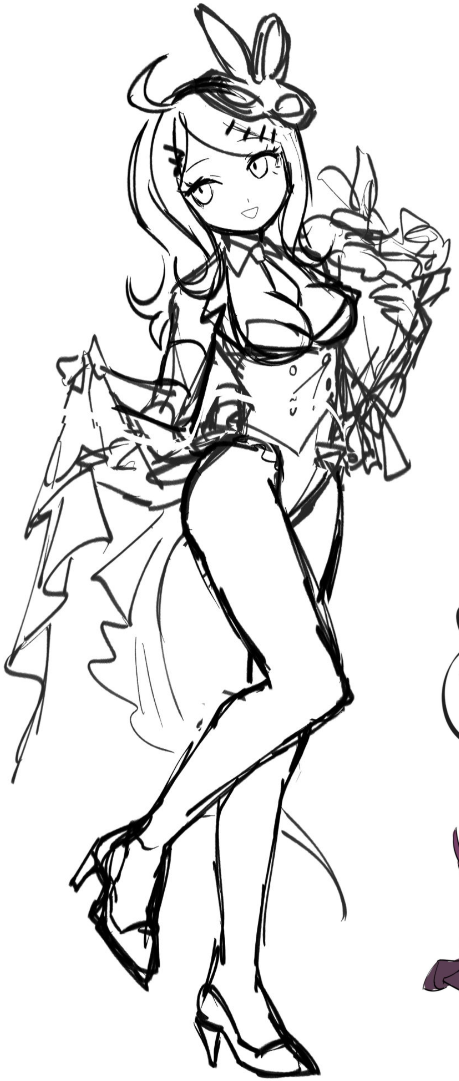
I didn't get far with sketches before i drew the final artwork for Tenko

Lol you can see a more pinup looking sketch there but i quickly abandoned that

Her design is based on her school uniform but i do like the leggings design with the diamond holes that match her hair style.

Concept story-wise i like that she abandons the ring girl role to fight instead haha





When Kaede's bunny figure was suddenly announced it was a huge surprise! While it's nice i think i was hoping for a bit more, so i ended up mixing in parts of her argument dress into it. I really do love the end result i think it's classy

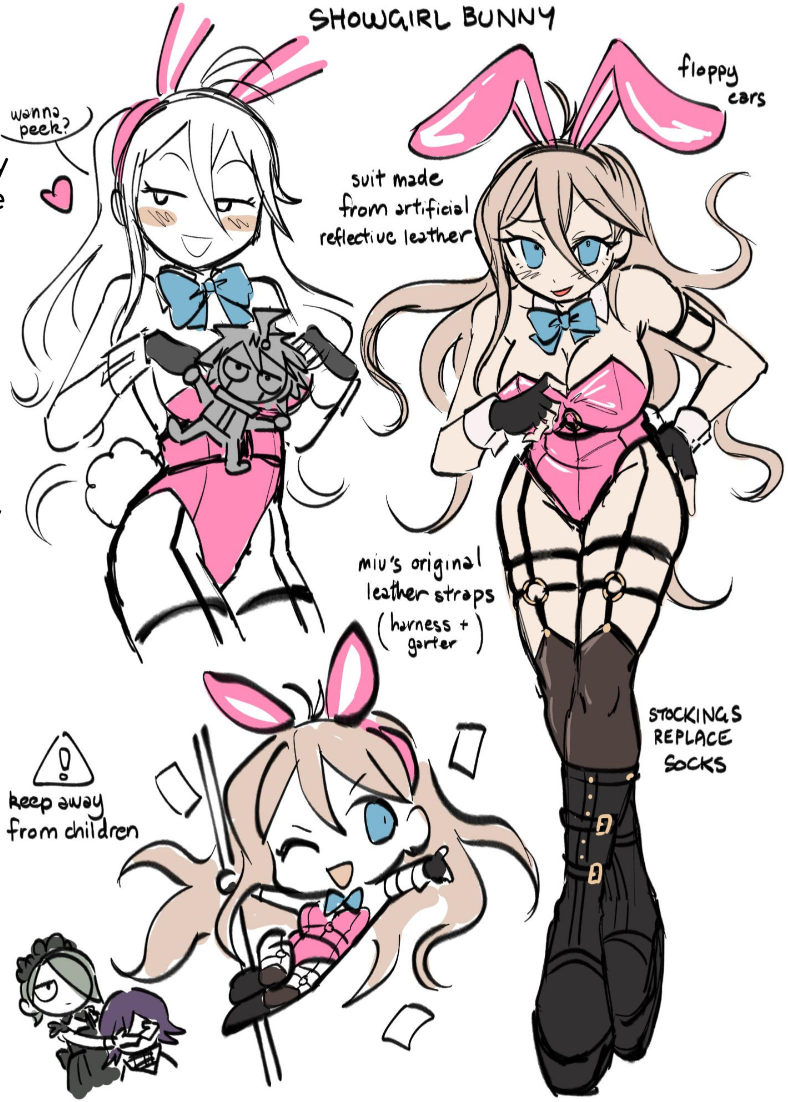
So you might notice i completely redid my Miu page

The art on the right was the original i drew. I think Miu was one of the earlier bunnies that i had drawn and her design was... really simple and the more i looked at it the more i was like noooo this isn't Miu enough

So i'm glad that i made it more sexy but i'm sad i removed the Kibo censor and Kirumi+Kokichi reaction



SHOWGIRL BUNNY

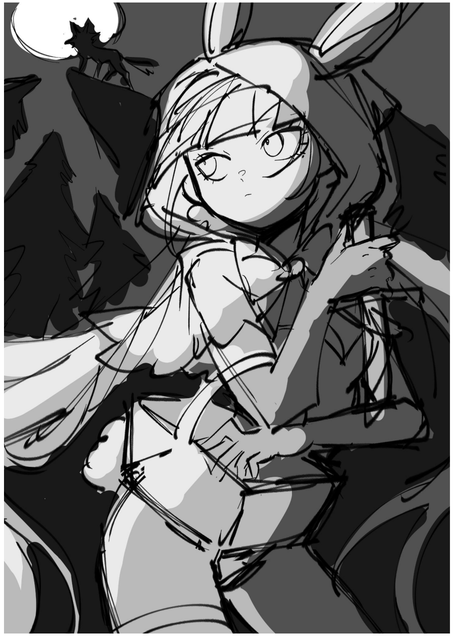
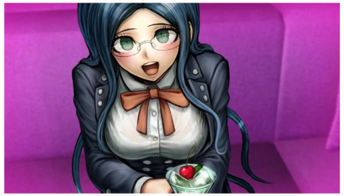
Sketch for the Patron voted Character Print



Maki was the third bunny design i drew up. The first 3 were kinda like my test to see if i could make this project a reality so it started more sketchy and simple. As the project continued, i went back and redesigned the Little Red Riding Hood Maki. i honestly love how she turned out and the theme too i thought was really cute as well. Patrons and Guest artists helped to vote on which redesign they liked more but i ended up combining the two anyway haha

Ok so the bartender theme is an obvious choice thanks to that one scene. I actually really love how Tsumugi's outfit turned out especially the white stockings i chose for her.



Omg ignore the YAOI label on the bottle i'm just seeing this sketch again haha. During the private patreon stream someone said the bottle looked like a yaoi paddle so i added it to the sketch

HAHA u know what i think Mugi would own a yaoi paddle

Good for her

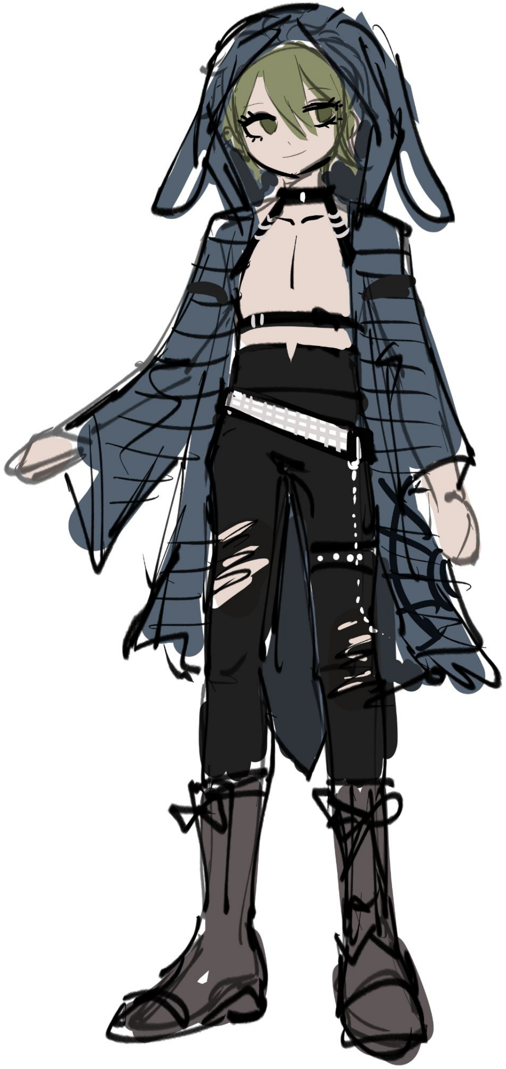
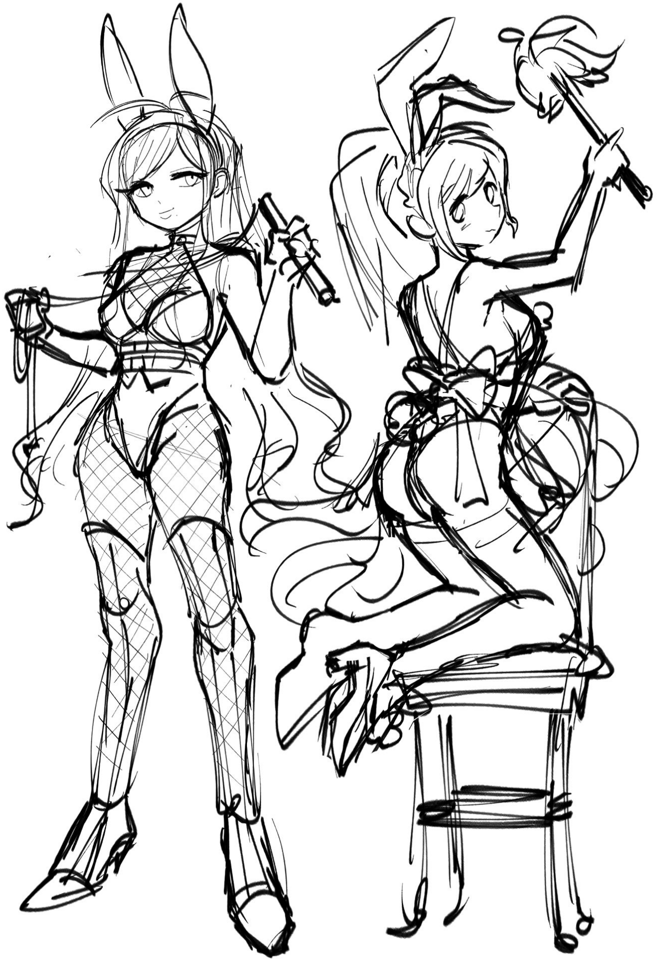
RANTARO DESIGN!

Yeah so this didnt end up in the final zine but i had fun coming up with this.

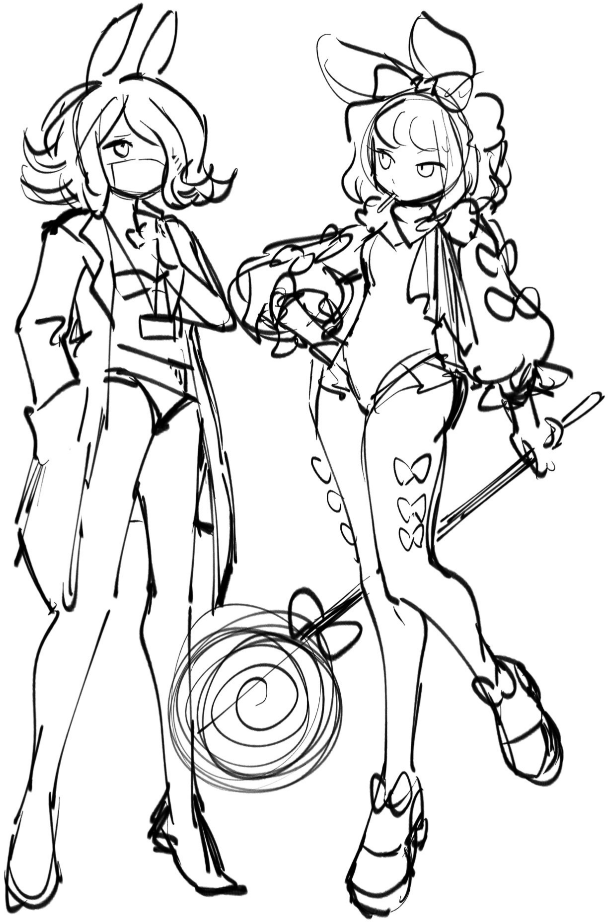
The inspo for this is visual kei fashions. Honestly i hope someone sees this design and draws it coz i wanna see that

What can i say
It's hot





I'm a big fan of Hiroko so like… cmon. Had to make her very sexy. On the other hand im kinda indifferent about Chisa so i think her design is a lil less creative haha. Well both still look nice and it was easy to come up with their bunny designs



Seiko and Ruruka have bunny designs based on their talents of course. I like the lab coat on top of Seiko's full body mesh and Ruruka's pastel candy/bubblegum/popcorn is very sweet. I like how both of them turned out ^^

When designing Makoto and Byakuya’s joint page theme i wasn't really sure which direction to go.
(A) Cute Mascot and Sexy (B) Server and Manager of a Cafe (C) Knight and King.
Honestly i was surprised when patrons and guest artists voted for B because i thought C was the more unique theme so haha if C or A is your fav you should join my patreon so you can vote in future polls like theses HAHA

https://www.patreon.com/cactuskhee

CAFE?
BUSINESS?

DONT COME BACK TILL YOU BRING IN 100 CUSTOMERS!
naegis promoting business

Surprise another page with these two

But yeah can you tell i was struggling with coming up with Makoto and Byakuya's theme?

Well at one point i was wondering if Komaru would have been part of this page as well. But patrons voted to separate Komaru because the Fast Food sketch in (A)

So that's how Komaru's final design was decided maybe if you lick my lucky rabbit's foot you'll encounter something good? ^^

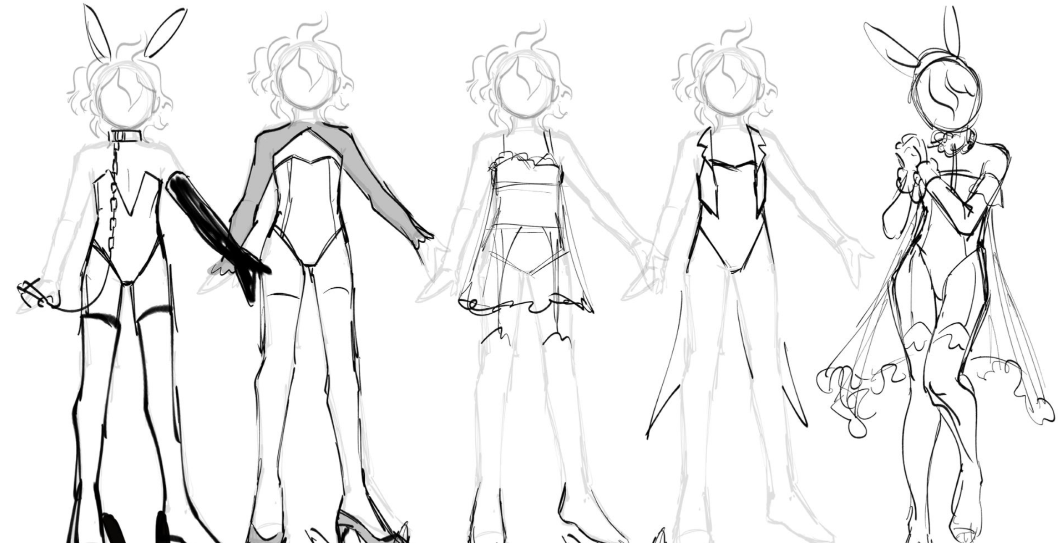
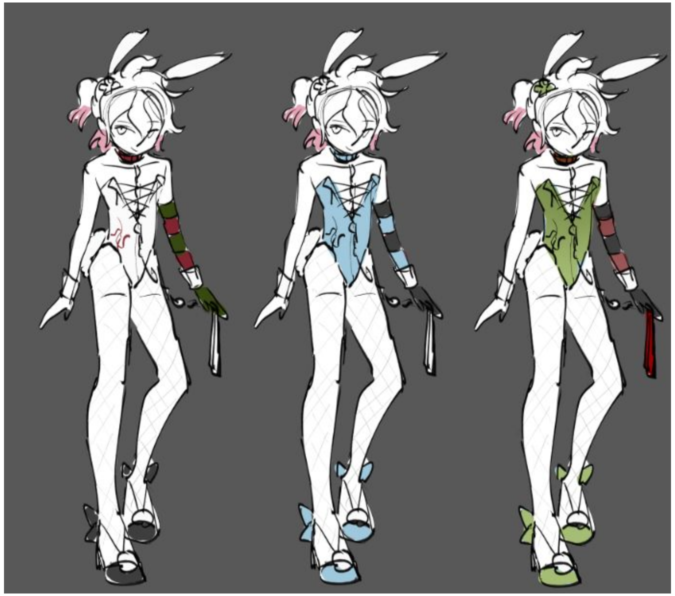
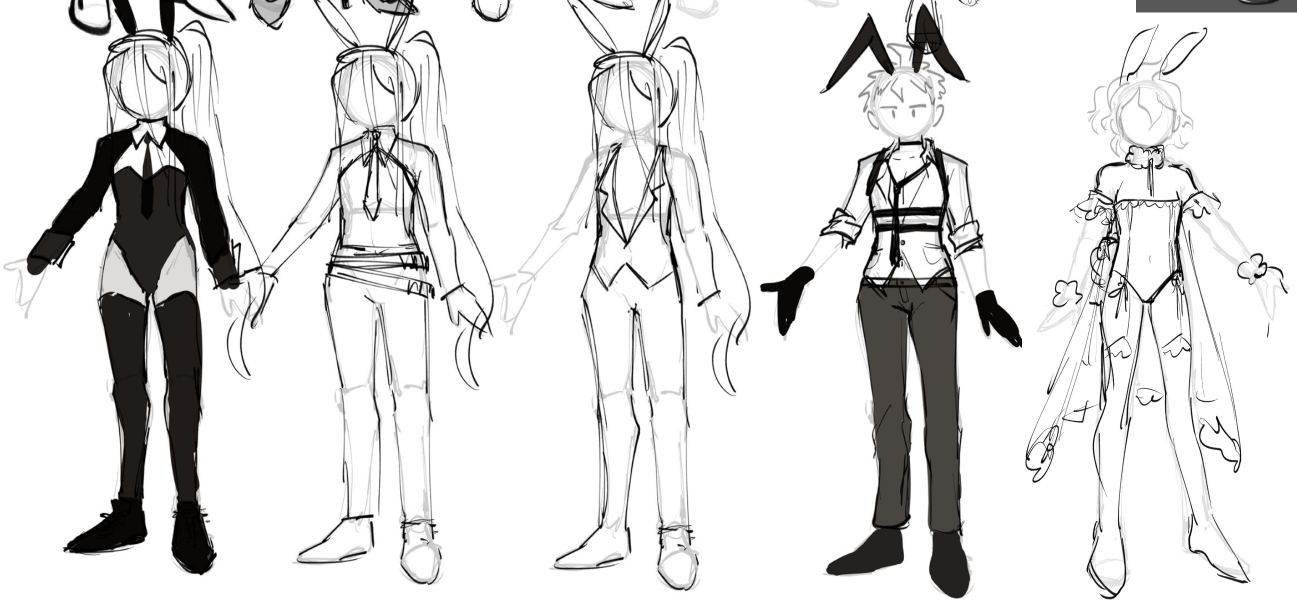
Was the whole point of the zine so i could draw Hajime and Nagito in bunny outfits? No.
But was i determined to make them look good? YES!

My fellow Hikomies/Komahiners out there i hope you like what i came up with :D
Here are the first few sketches i did of them together. There was gonna be handcuffs and Hajime has a cropped shirt at first but when i got to Shuichi and Kokichi, the designs were all looking the same so i had to redo him.







I had so much trouble trying to nail down their outfits and i blame myself for wanting to make komahina really good HAHA

"IT HAS TO BE PERFECT!"

There was a point where Izuru was also going to be included but he ended up getting scrapped and turned into a little bunny instead

Overall im pleased with the final look that i gave them :D Lace and Leather Shuichi and Kokichi's designs weren't too difficult to come up with but when i let patrons/guests and the public vote we got Shuichi A and Kokichi A and i was thinking... GOD DAMN IT GUYS THEY LOOK THE SAME HAHA and not only that Hajime's outfit at the time was the same too!

"People will think i'm just being uncreative with the male bunnies!"
Well in the end i did stick with it so i came up with the DICE Host Club scenario so the similar style could be reasoned as like a uniform style of the club.
If i had not let people vote on these designs i think i might have picked Shuichi B and Kokichi B ahaha but it's fine you guys can see them here now ^^

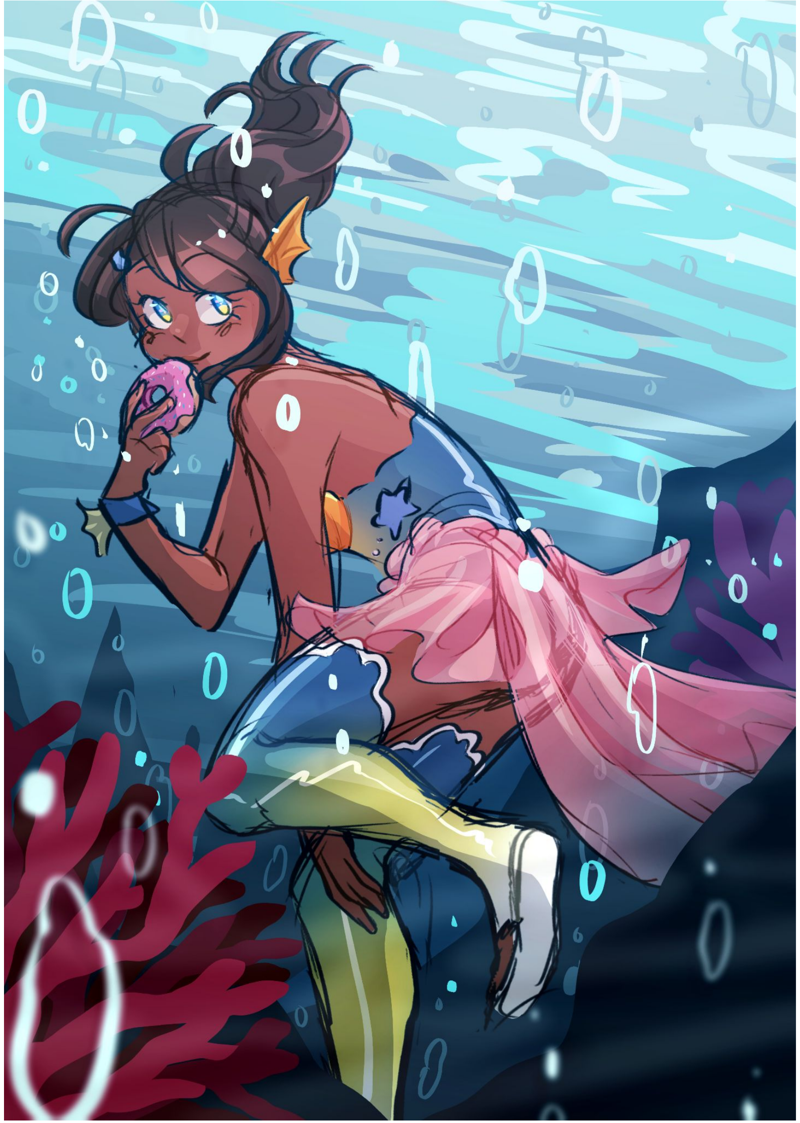
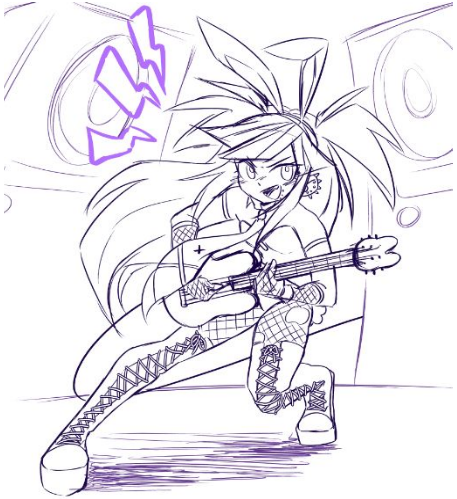
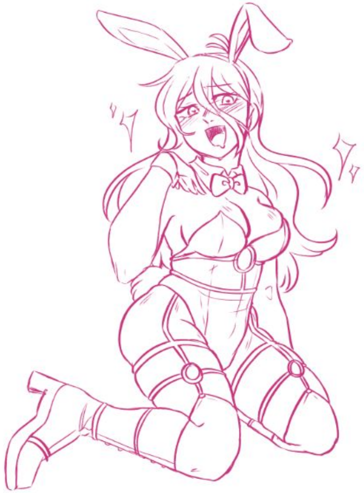
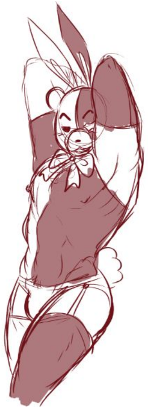
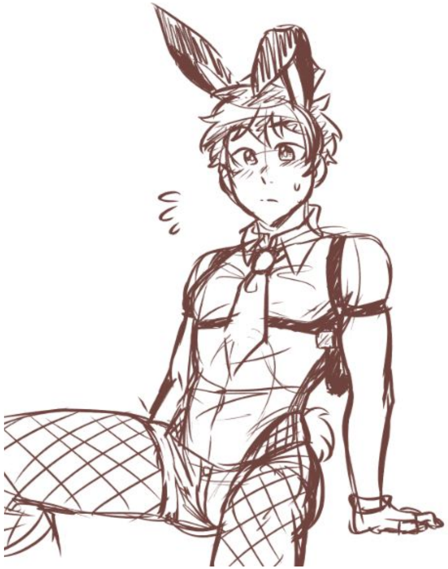
I was thrilled when I got to draw both Celeste and Chihiro for this zine! Khee provided wonderful designs, but I wanted to change the theme of casino bunny and cyber bunny for my own.
Because I like my interpretations of those characters, I made something extremely frilly and a sorta "matching" outfit for each of them. Their motifs are the dandelion (Chihiro) and the butterfly (Celeste) which I love to incorporate discreetly on other artworks, but on this one I went all in!
The themes of their outfits create some duality :
Chihiro is like a sweet lolita styled bunny with sun/spring details, while Celeste is somewhat a goth bunny with moon/winter details.
Originally, the clothes were pure white and black.
Oh yeah I wanted to add Alter Ego as well. They deserves a cute "bunny" outfit, so I just redid Chihiro's with a much angular and sharper look. I ended up with a virtual jackalope outfit idea.











Jai

I just really like mermaids they're pretty so I speedran that first version LMAO

Also girls are pretty so i wanted to doodle all of them but at some point i just kinda died wheeeze

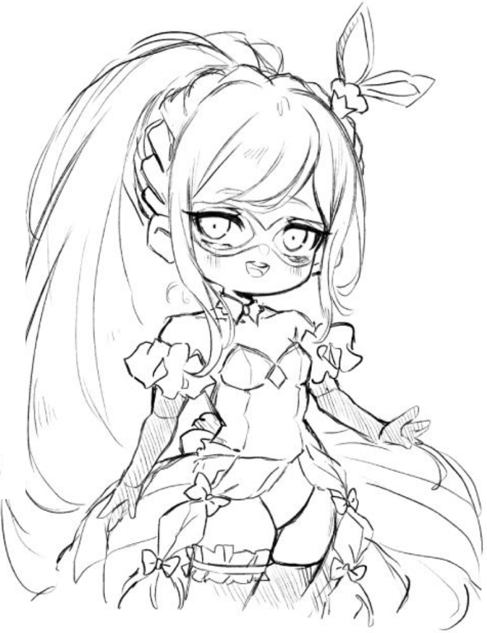
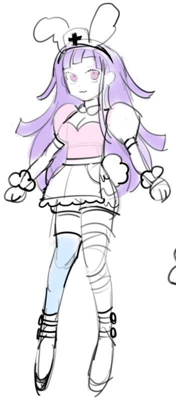
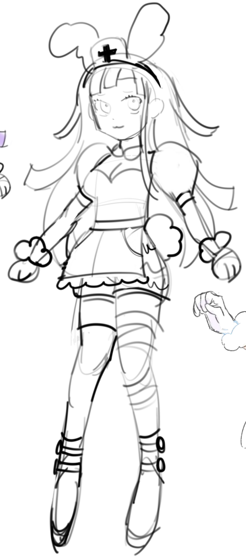
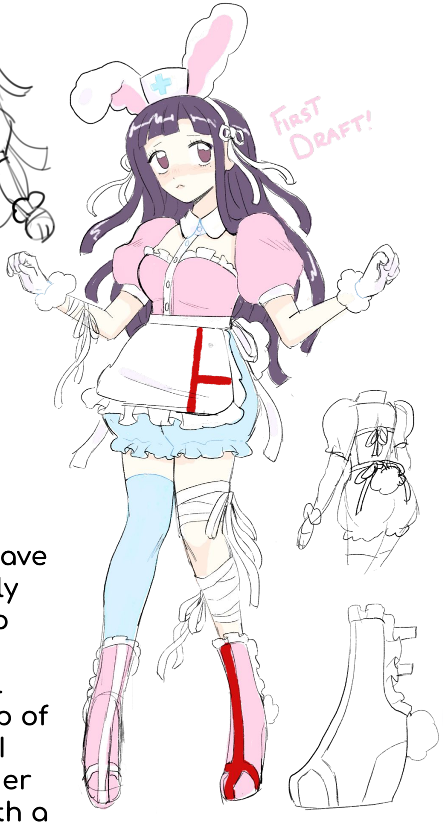
Maki and Sonia designs were really pretty too so I needed to sketch them ///









FIRST DRAFT!

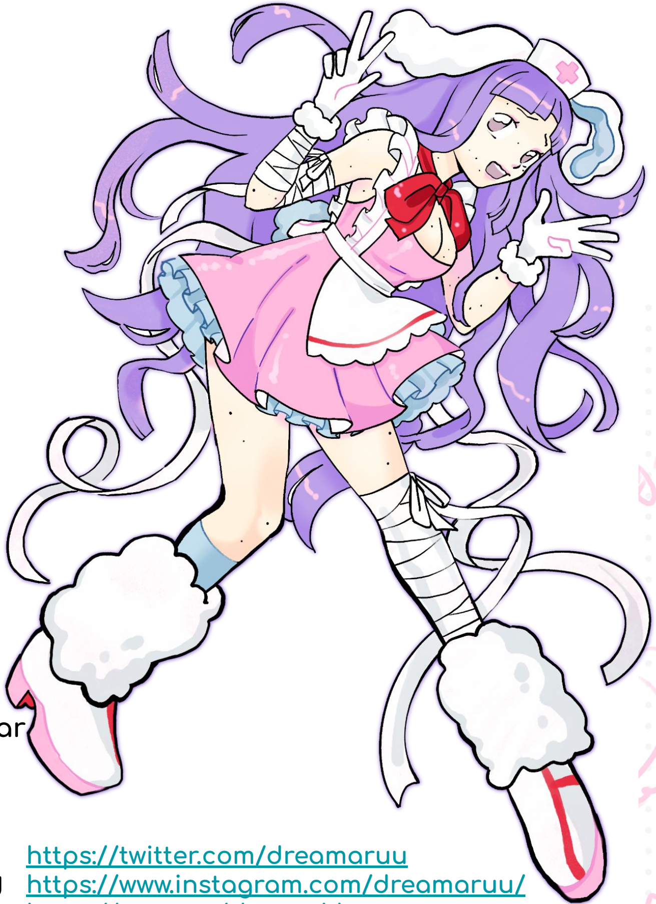
Dani

Mikan is a character I have just recently grown really fond of. I wanted to keep her canon colors, but make a really fun pastel design with a bright pop of red. For the outfit itself I wanted to stay true to her medical theming but with a twist of fluffiness !

Her hands are posed as a 2 and a 3, referencing the year of this project as well as the year of the rabbit :3

The idea of the first concept was to mimic older nurse uniforms + lotia style bloomers. It wasn't giving the silhouette I was wanting, so I took the sleeves off, added more ruffles and made the shoes a lot chunkier !

You can see in the sketch on the bottom right that I did intend to use the refined first draft design. I did some outfit design on the fly to change the bits I felt weren't working, and below you can see the final look !



For the background I wanted it too look like doodles in a notebook, complete with a cameo from a little bear...

How can you have a Danganronpa Bunny Zine and resist the urge to draw Komahina designs ???

Barry

With Tanaka's design I wanted to combine his talent with his chuunibyou personality. Give him a pretentious dark overlord's outfit with latex, armor elements and a chains, and at the same time put a cute bunny on top so that it plays the role of the "ears" of the bunny suit. Even if his design can't really be seen completely in the final picture (bc I really really love Sonia's outfit by Khee(´□`)♡)
I had a lot of fun developing it!

Erlin

Definitely decided to lean more in the sexy mechanic aesthetic, but still wanted to preserve his adorableness by adding in some cute little details like the earrings and gloves.

I took some inspiration from character designs of travelers, mechanics and some techwear clothing, honestly I mostly just scrolled through pinterest and clicked and tried out anything that looked fun and cool to me xd

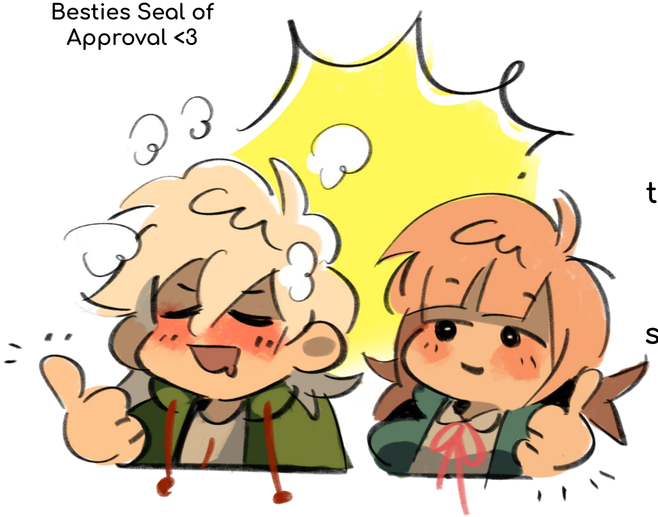
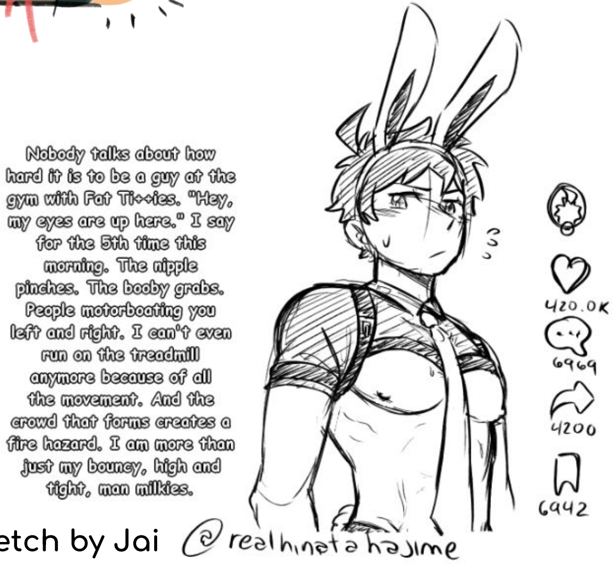
Besties Seal of Approval <3



I kicked off my bunny Jimmy design process from a collective idea everyone agrees with and takes as a fact: that only Hajime would ever need to wear straps and holsters and anything of the sort. You see this in any single Future Foundation AU you can dig up.

I made a few other design choices to taste but had to keep his collar and tie on him, for those really are his only trademarks. Since it inevitably turned out to be a pretty simple design, I also made a variant based on his DR 10th anniversary suit for funsies.



Nobody talks about how hard it is to be a guy at the gym with Fat Ti++ies. "Hey, my eyes are up here." I say for the 5th time this morning. The nipple pinches. The booby grabs. People motorboating you left and right. I can't even run on the treadmill anymore because of all the movement. And the crowd that forms creates a fire hazard. I am more than just my bouncy, high and tight, man milkies.

Working on this zine was super fun! You'd think that designing a bunny suit for a character whose main outfit is.. a suit... would be easy, but making it visually interesting turned out to be a bit of a challenge. All I knew from the beginning was I wanted it to be somewhat revealing, and the updo and running makeup was a must. I settled on the final suit design after a lot of different ideas, and I think the monokuma-ish coloring just came to me in the moment! Of course khee came up with the genius idea of making the smoke into a bunny shape.
The mikan bunny is based on my own outfit for my cosplay of her, and khee's chihiro design was just too cute to NOT draw!

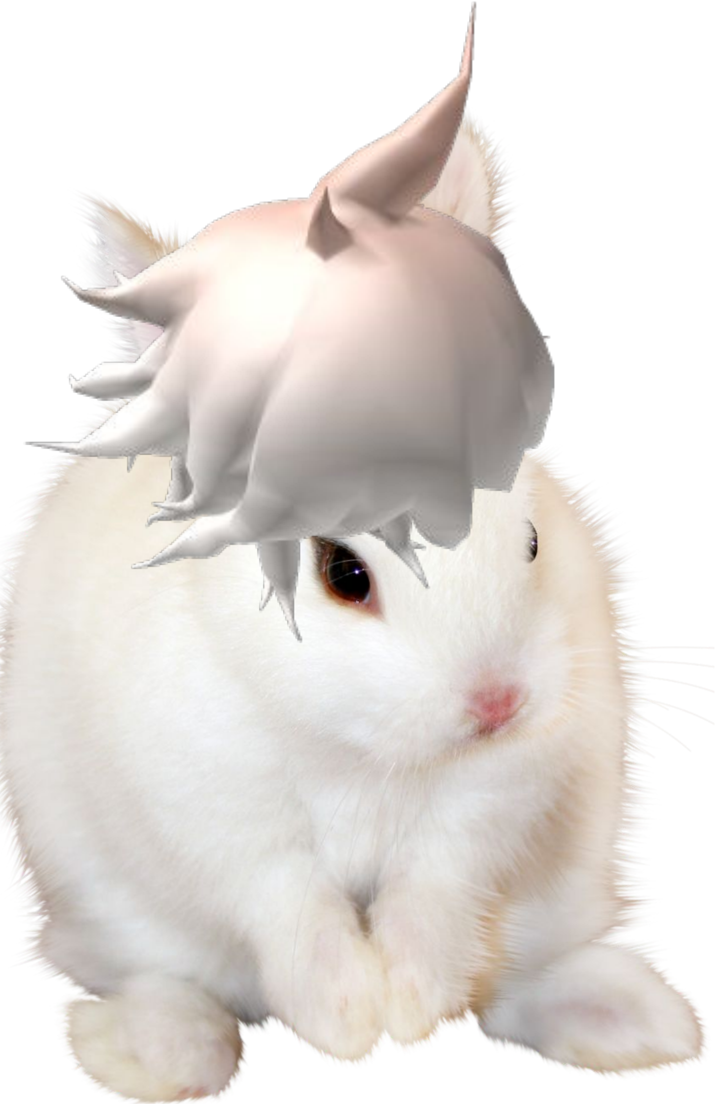
Are we surprised I drew Komaeda? No. Are we surprised he's fully covered up? YES!

Komaeda's whacko personality is fitting to a mad-hatter type of trope which made me choose the final design.

His bunno tail attached to a chain is my favorite part of the design!

The others were trying to modify his jacket but they didn't meet the vibe check.

Next page is my alternative bunny design!



This is him.

Thank you to Khee for working hard and organizing this project!

Chiaki is my favourite DR character, after seeing Khee's "magical girl" theme for Chiaki I wanted to design her "regular" form when she's not fighting computer viruses by moonlight!

I definitely wanted to draw Khee's design because the dress is so cute!

I got to design Shuichi's bunny suit for this zine! I love this boy. His outfit is inspired by old detectives and private investigators from around the 1920s, except he's showing more skin and has more harnesses lmao.

The main inspiration were retro-futurism themed pinups, with sleek chrome spacesuits and flashy laser pistols!

Trying to combine the sleekness of a bunny suit with the bulkiness of an astronaut one was a bit difficult. The big bunny eared space helmets were a v inspired choice lol

Originally Momota also had a large, space captain like coat that would billow out in the piece, but with the designs of the suits being bulky enough as-is I had to cut it for clarity's sake. Which is a shame because he looks so cool in one.....

Stockings (Constellation patterned?)

I went into this design thinking about how it is said that the moon looks to have a rabbit on it. I figured it would be perfect to try this theme while combining traditional Japanese clothing with Korekiyo's signature goth style, something he'd go for while fitting his talent, y'know!

The first design on the left was inspired by Shinto uniforms. I liked the way the fabric fell on them and how it wasn't like many other designs I'd seen before, but I got too caught up in how to incorporate the gothic elements and couldn't find a way to make it more interesting.

With this in mind, I chose to combine this look with modern Taisho fashion I'd seen while keeping the sleeves (and adding a slit for extra flavor haha).

Sketches of some brainstorming for my main piece. Khee's designs were very fun to draw. Himiko was perfect for what I imagined! Tenko was cute too, tho I ended up adding an abb window in my end piece since I thought it fit her well hehehe

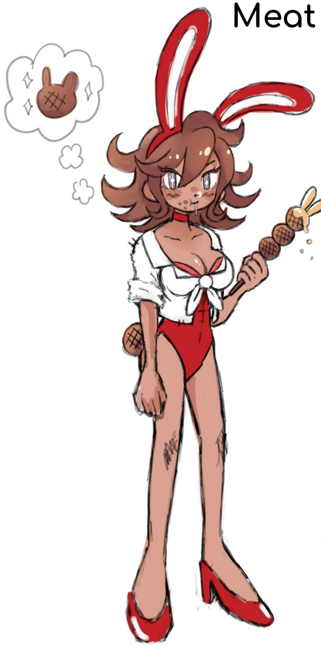
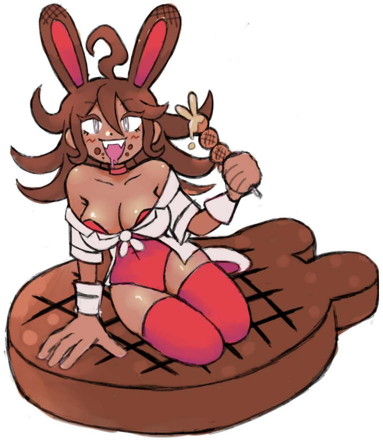
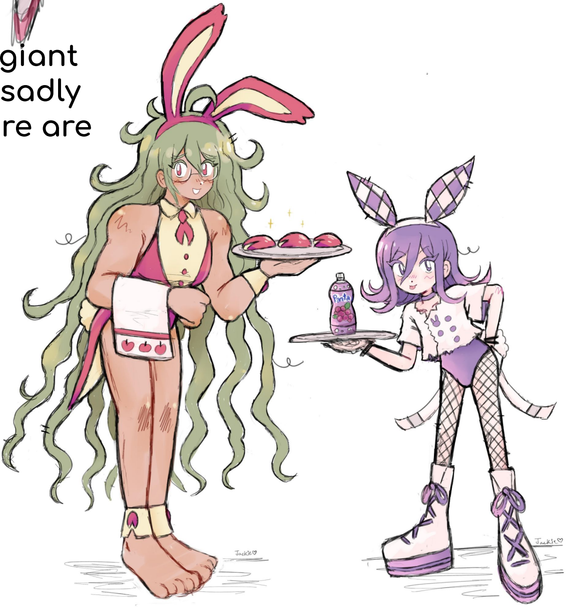
Meat themed Akane



I wanted to draw all the giant pairings but Nekomaru sadly never got finished so here are some lonesome Akanes





Jackie

I thought it would be cute to put Gonta in an apple bunny themed suit because it's one of his favorite items^^ As for Kokichi, I guess I just wanted something stylish. Later I added puffs at the end of his ears for a cute jester look~

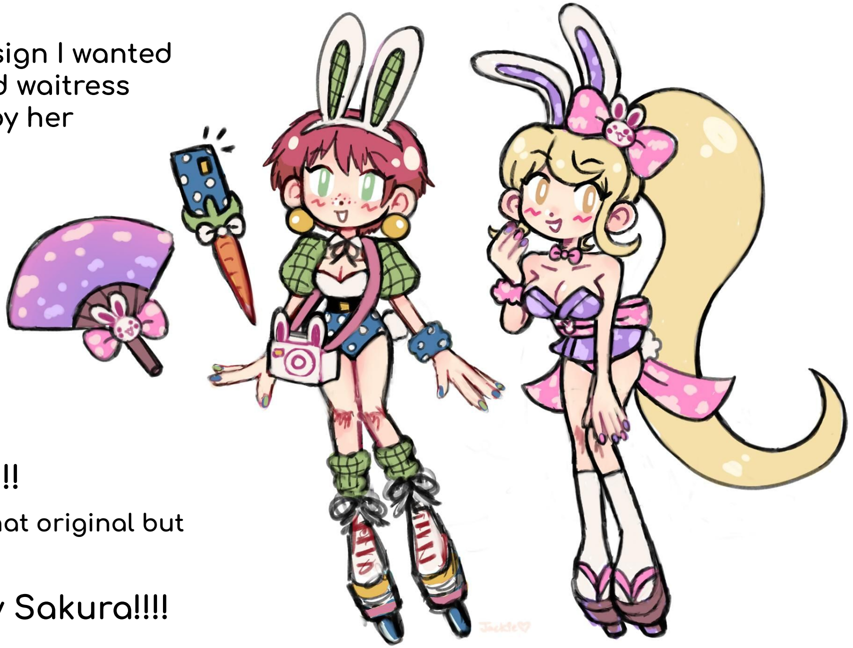
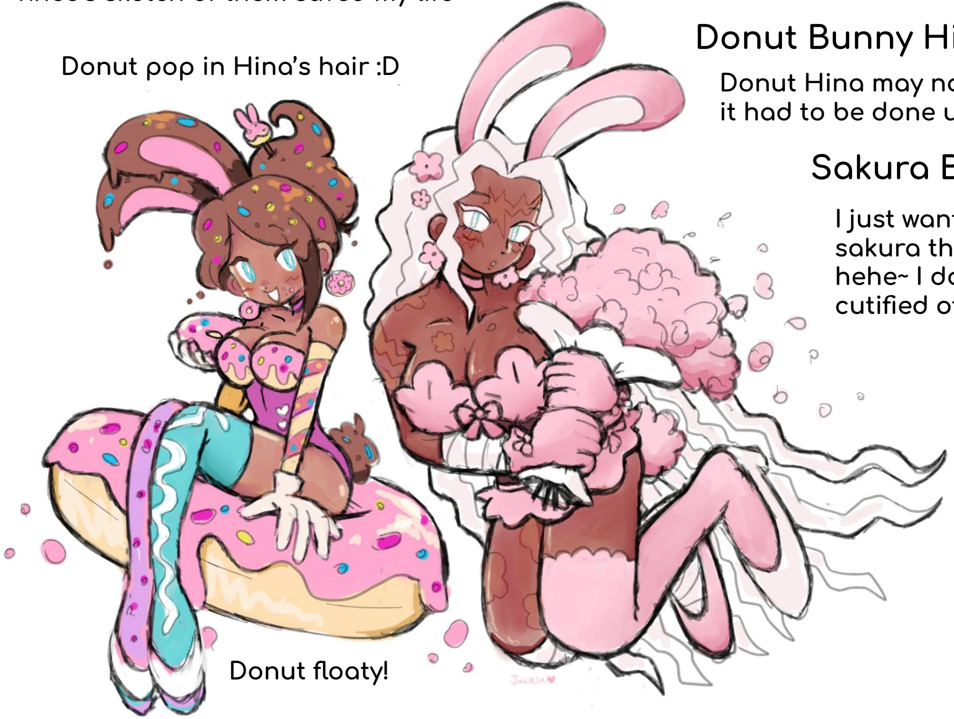
Khee's sketch of them saved my life

When making Mahiru's design I wanted to go with an old fashioned waitress aesthetic, partly inspired by her swimsuit design.

With Hiyoko I just wanted something cute and opposite in color to Mahiru's design. As well as using Hiyoko's taller design.



Donut pop in Hina's hair :D



Donut floaty!

Donut Bunny Hinaa!!!!

Donut Hina may not be that original but it had to be done uwu

Sakura Bunny Sakura!!!!

I just wanted to make a cute sakura themed Sakura hehe~ I don't see Sakura cutified often :'o

As the title says, the idea for these designs was to have them represent their respective stylistic genre.

Miu I decided to make more classy, based on a steampunk design I made for her before. She has a lot of frills and a long skirt, as I wanted to give her more of a showgirl aesthetic, but still keeping her goggles. In the final design I removed the puffy sleeves.

Kiibo I stripped of his armor. I had some trouble thinking how to design him. He's not really wearing "clothes", I just made his body look like a costume, but gave him a typical cyberpunk style jacket so that he looks less naked.

After the initial decision of going with what Kirumi's introductory ultimate was, I wanted to keep her design with elements that were recognizable to her. The spider web design I think is the most striking part of her in-game design, but the hoops on her hands (which I still never found out what those were) were also noteworthy. I did play with more traditionally "maid" like versions in 3 and 4, but settled on the 1st still. It's nice to give her outfit sexy elements, but also make her feel like she could rescue a conglomerate owner's daughter from a hostage situation in it. Can't you just see her just stacked with weapons in this one?

I am sure everyone is at least moderately surprised that I drew a girl but Tsumugi is actually one of my favorite characters from DRv3!! I care her so much, even before her end game reveal. She is so cute and talented and sweet!!! Wow!!!

Anyway, as for my drawing, I wasn't very creative with the design but that was because I just really liked Khee's original bunny design. And I wanted to show off how cool she would be at her side job as a bartender. Gotta pull off those cool tricks for extra tips!

Also I hope everyone notices the secret Junko portrait on the wall hehe. Tsumugi would definitely have a tribute to her favorite person in the bar.
